

"The Daring Nellie Bly"
Vocabulary for the Week of October 17th

1. relented: Someone who has relented has agreed to something he or she once refused.
2. faze: If things faze you, they bother you or confuse you.
3. eccentric: An eccentric person has habits or opinions that seem odd to other people.
4. infuriated: Something that infuriated you mad you feel extremely angry.
5. disheartened: If you are disheartened, you feel disappointed and less hopeful.
6. impassable: A road or path that is impassable is impossible to travel on.
7. crusaded: A person who has crusaded has worked hard to make a change based on his or her beliefs.

Spelling Words: Inflections "-ed" and "-ing"

- |             |                |               |
|-------------|----------------|---------------|
| 1. talked   | 11. buying     | 21. applied   |
| 2. hurried  | 12. dried      | 22. occurred  |
| 3. smiling  | 13. picnicking | 23. conquered |
| 4. dropped  | 14. scared     | 24. rumored   |
| 5. clapping | 15. driving    | 25. referred  |
| 6. stepped  | 16. obeyed     |               |
| 7. worried  | 17. playing    |               |
| 8. worrying | 18. tried      |               |
| 9. changing | 19. carrying   |               |
| 10. stayed  | 20. hurrying   |               |